

Past Parent (2008 – 2010)

Our daughter attended St James College for Years 10, 11 and 12. Both my husband and I were impressed with the tremendous effort that both the teachers and support staff devote to the students and to the St James community. The staff present as having the ethos of developing the students both as individuals and as a whole in terms of working as a community. The spirit of St James, we believe, is one of a deep faith and spirituality that fundamentally flows through to the students. This is evident in their belief in themselves, recognition of individual qualities in others and an environment in which their talents can contribute beyond themselves to the community at large.

We have been more than impressed with the subjects and assistance on offer to help students with the work experience and outside courses they may undertake to contribute towards their school certificate.

We felt at all times supported and that our daughter received the very best education in a holistic manner. She has a wonderful group of friends and we believe this stems from the community at St James. Thank you St James.
